

Bravo Company

SETS SAIL WITH ADVENTURE, ROMANCE AND PIRATES AT THE CRIGHTON THEATRE

By: Marcia Feldt Bates

Amy Sowers with her talented Bravo Company kids sail the high seas to teach us all how to ignite romance and keep love afloat through the never-ending waves of life. And how better than in a swashbuckling comedy for everyone to enjoy?

Meet Sarah who yearns for a brave and adventurous husband instead of dull, conventional and wealthy Roger who has asked for her hand in marriage. Being a woman of today, Sarah chooses not to simply dream of such a man but dubs herself the Pirate Queen, gathers a crew of lady pirates and sets sail to find her very own but perhaps a tad more romantic, Johnny Depp-like Captain Jack Sparrow.

However, Roger sets his own course to capture his beloved while also using his business acumen to increase his wealth. Instead of going to the ends of the earth, he hires Long John Sliver to do a total pirate makeover including a motley crew equipped to overcome all obstacles to reach Treasure Island and claim the buried chests filled with gold doubloons.

As messages in bottles spread rumors faster than e-mail, the two pirate wannabes unbeknownst to themselves, race toward each other amidst whitecaps of fun and the most comical musical pirate adventure yet! Don't miss this year-end finale showcasing Bravo Company, the educational wing of Stage Right which is the residential acting company at the historic Crighton Theatre.

A Pirate's Life for Me – one week-end only -- with performances May 11th at 7:00pm and May 12th at 2:00pm. To buy tickets (adults $10 and students $5), please call the box office at (936) 441-SHOW or go to www.crightontheatre.org.

Bravo Company has once again proved the benefits of enrolling your child in acting lessons at the Crighton Theatre. Taught by veteran performers Amy Sowers and Katt Gilcrease, students blossom upon the stage. And with shows like A Pirate's Life for Me, everyone's imagination can run wild with exuberance and laughter.

Amy has directed numerous children's shows including Doo Wop Wed Widing Hood, The Ever After, and Romeo and Harriet. She has served as Assistant Director for Stalag 17, Cinderella and A Christmas Story; played Ruby Ragout in the Country Playhouse production Some Play About a Murder, appeared in Stage Right's world premiere production of Mama Won't Fly, the Futrelle family trilogy--Dearly Beloved, Christmas Belles, and Southern Hospitality.
